Foreword

Senior Officers are discussing the big and busy year ahead.

We, the Senior Class of 1963, on this our 12th year of schooling have received the traditional privilege of compiling the La Saltianna. This yearbook will retain memories of the normal everyday procedure and special occasions for not only the seniors but the underclassmen as well.

We have endeavored to depict in this book, through pictures and print, some of the activities, personalities and classes of this year that will remain part of our pleasant memories. We worked hard to produce a record of achievement and leadership that we can be proud of forever. May this issue of the La Saltianna leave a strong impression in your minds of our high school days together.

Starting the day with a smile.

Dedication

MR. JACK L. MASH

We the Class of 1963, in order to show our respect and appreciation for your patience, loyalty and service, dedicate our "La Saltianna" to you, Mr. Jack L. Mash.

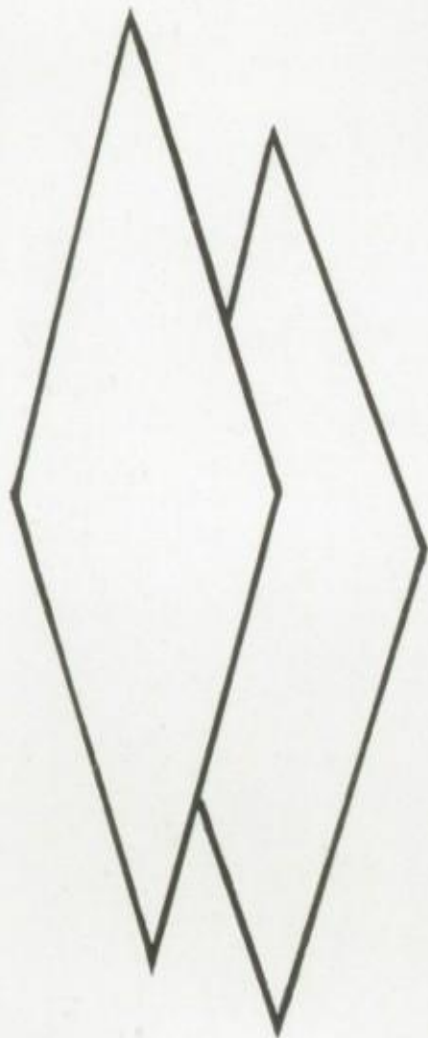

You, Mr. Mash, not only have a great deal of understanding in your chosen field, but also possess the rare ability to stimulate and motivate the learning of all your students in all your classes.

When we started High School as new Freshmen, you started as a new teacher at S.J.H.S. You have been of great help in time of need. We will gratefully remember your wholehearted devotion as a teacher, coach and friend.

"Devotion, like fire, goes upward."

Administration

JOHN R. COULSON
Supervising Principal

To The Graduating Seniors:

You have just completed the most important phase of your formal education. Three out of every four unemployed people in our country today did not graduate from high school, so it definitely is to your advantage that you gained a high school education. In this competitive age it is necessary that we attempt to further develop our skills by continuing our education beyond the high school level. You have acquired the foundation upon which to build your success; it now takes further learning to realize it. This learning can come about in ways other than college, but the more formal education one obtains, the easier it becomes to develop our skills.

Whatever your chosen occupation, you'll be surprised at how opportunity seems to follow the people who work the hardest.

John R. Coulson
Supervising Principal

"Is this right, Mr. Coulson?"

Dear Seniors:

Your real worth to yourself, and to society, will depend upon what you have done with the education that has been offered to you. Whether you will remain a small fraction of what you might have been, or whether you exceed even your own fondest dreams of success, will depend upon yourself. There is no success without hard work.

It is our hope and belief that your education here has been a challenge to you, and that you will leave with a feeling of some measure of success, and that, no matter what field you choose in life, your schooling shall have provided a sound foundation.

OUR TOWN

In the first act the author genially outlines the history of the town, which is Grover's Corners, N. H., and something of the character of its citizens. Then he carries you into the houses of the Gibbs and Webb families, substantial homes containing substantial folks. You arrive at breakfast time and are carried through one entire day in the lives of these good people.

The second act concerns the love affair between young George Gibbs and little Emily Webb, and thus culminates in a moving wedding scene, which contains all the elements of poignant sorrow and abundant happiness that make for solemnity and impressiveness.

In the third act we are led to the cemetery on the hill, where many townspeople we have come to know so well are patiently and smilingly awaiting not "judgment" but greater understanding. Into their midst is led the bride, a little timid at first, a little wishful to go back to life, to live again with her memories. But she is shown how impossible, how futile it is to return. The past cannot be re-lived. Living people, humans, occupied with their petty occupations and small thoughts, know little of true joy or happiness. Truth is to be found only in the future.

Juniors

We the Class of 1964, as all the Junior Classes before us, look forward to our Senior year with eager anticipation, but we found our Junior year exceptionally rewarding.

During this year our class officers and fellow students worked diligently in preparing for what we termed the years biggest event; The Junior-Senior Prom. We held the Thanksgiving Dance as well as other projects in order to raise sufficient money to make this event a huge success.

We the class of 1964 will continue to do our utmost to bring honor and fame to S.J.H.S. academically as well as athletically.

Sophomores

We the class of 1965 eagerly anticipate our Junior year in High School. As Sophomores, we bought our class rings and sponsored the Christmas dance. This was also the first year members of our class participated in Varsity football, basketball or track.

During our Sophomore year we have gained valuable experience which will aid in meeting our future with heads held high. We will also have many wonderful memories to retain throughout life.

Freshmen

We the class of 1966 started our climb up the ladder of high-school this year. We began to participate in more school activities and some of us were among those making the trip to Harrisburg and the inauguration parade.

The biggest event our class participated in this year was the annual Sweater Hop named the "Sweetheart Serenade." Our class president and class secretary crowned the king and queen of this event while others of us escorted the Senior court to the throne. We are looking forward with eager anticipation to our Sophomore year and the second rung of our ladder.

Varsity Football Team

Mr. Lytle and Mr. Mash

About thirty-five candidates reported for pre-season Varsity Football training for 1962-1963 gridiron season. This represented a very commendable figure, but as the season progressed this figure dwindled to about twenty. The gridiron season wasn't too successful, but a great deal of credit and praise should be bestowed upon the players and coaches for their respective efforts to bring glory to S.J.H.S.

Junior High Football

Mr. Shaner and Mr. Meneely, Co-coaches

The prospect of a fine future football team looks bright for the future Trojans because on August 28, 1962, thirty-five boys turned out for football practice. This team had a very successful season; tying one, losing one, and winning the remaining games. Due to many injuries on the team, they lost a few players but the rest have gained considerable experience to continue on with future football games.
